Notice Regarding Expansion of Production Capacity of Oita Manufacturing Center

Yorozu Corporation (the “Company”) hereby announces its decision to invest in expanding the capacity of Oita Manufacturing Center, the Company’s production site in Kyushu.

1. Background

The Company has decided to invest approximately 3 billion yen in its Oita factory to construct an additional factory building and install a large-scale press machine at the existing site. This investment is intended to address the continued high utilization of production facilities in the Kyushu region and meet anticipated growth in regional demand.

The planned facility expansion will increase production capacity and efficiency, while establishing a more flexible production system capable of responding to both current demand and future increases in customer orders. Through this investment, the Company will further strengthen its business foundation in the Kyushu region, thereby driving sustainable growth.
